

About Us

Kelly Nicole Designs is a small fashion boutique that specializes in clothing for young women. Located just outside of San Diego, California, they are the perfect store for casual summer wear and have many beach items in a variety of different colors, mostly bright pastels. Their store mostly sells summer clothing items such as rompers, dresses, shorts and tank tops but they do have a few light sweaters for when it gets cold out. They also sell some swimwear and other beach accessories like hats and coverups. They are a fun and lively brand passionate about giving back to their community and spreading positivity. They want to be known as the go to brand for millennial women to shop at and feel like their most confident selves.
